ETS and OBSERVATIONS

trip to Bethel--Stock And Crop Items.

[DELAYED.]

The writer spent Thursday and Friday, September 5 and 6 on the trip to Sherburne, Bethel, Sharpe, Plum, North Middletown to Madison Creek, thence to Mt.
Sterling.

STOCK ITEMS.

On Thursday J. H. Henry delivered 47 1405-lb. exports at 54c.

S. Claywood bought of John Pierat, Jr., 27 87-lb. shoats at 54c others at same price; he bought of ——— 8 kid more 40 100-lb. feeders at 44c.

at Sharpsburg the local telephone company is pushing to connect their lines to surrounding places.

We left Bethel at 3 o'clock spent an hour at Sherburne and returned to Bethel for the night.

The meeting which had been in progress at the Christian church for 12 days, conducted by Rev. C.
W. Dick, was to close on Friday night. There had been three additions. The pastor of the congregation is N. H. Brooks, who is connected with the Kentucky Medical and Business College.

Rev. C. M. Schoonover who is preaching for the Greenville, Tex.
Christian church, was spending a few days there.

W. H. Pierat, wife and babe came to leave on Sunday for a week's visit at Ezel. The "four-month babe," of whom we wrote two months ago, is doing nicely.
She is a Dalsey. She and the editor had a romp.

We met Wm. Day, wife and children at his store.

Milton Ratliff's daughter continues sick.

We were guests of Mr. Pierat, who now keeps commercial men.

Tobacco and corn are doing well as the line of our trip. We saw three crops of tobacco where cutting had begun. Quality is said to be good, but not as heavy as usual.

Returning via Sharpsburg we dined with John Burris, Jr., near Plum.

Everything quiet at North Middletown, where we spent two hours.

Winston Hart has had typhoid fever for three weeks.

Socially, we called at Wm.
Day's. We had known his wife since Woodford for ——— years.
This was our first call at their attractive home.

The drive through the country is charming. We reached home after dark.

Extracts From Judge Cantrill's Speech.

At Frankfort last week Judge Cantrill delivered a very strong speech to the Grand Jury. He referred with sadness to the shooting of President McKinley:

JURIES DERELICT.

He said that crime had run rampant throughout the United States within the last few years and it was easy to trace one of the chief causes for such a condition.
"The derelictions of the grand and petit juries are more to blame for the state of affairs in this country at the present time, and especially in this Commonwealth, than of all other causes combined."

There can be no excuse of the petit juries of the country turning red-handed murderers loose upon the various communities of our land; there can be no excuse when the grand jury comes to deliberate upon the matters submitted to them, when they only stand in the presence of their God, that they should permit outside influences to control them in their deliberation.

CITIZENS FAIL TO DO THEIR DUTY.

In speaking of citizens who purposefully evade the processes of the courts in an effort to detect crime, he said:

"The only security you have for your home and for your children who may come after you—is to aid the courts in every possible way you can in seeing the law vindicated."

THE PULPITS.

"The pulpits, as a rule, sent up no supplication to the Throne of Grace that the life of William Goebel should be spared to his Commonwealth," said he. "If there were any expressions or indications as to the feelings of the pulpits (the same pulpits in Kentucky which are now fulminating their thunderbolts against anarchists and anarchists, which is all right and of which I approve) at that particular time the public knew nothing of them. I know whereof I speak."

Referring to certain of the public press of this State, publications which, if they did not approve and encourage the murder of Goebel, winked at it, and after its culmination asserted that nobody knew or could find out who the assassin was, who ever since have been apologizing that such a thing was done. He said:

"I do not hesitate to denounce their conduct as being the conduct of a lot of lecherous, libelous, cowardly curs that no community ought to tolerate."

And yet from the time the grand jury first presented an indictment up to the present time that press has never failed to take advantage of every occasion and every opportunity to vilify, denounce and defame the officers of this court and of the other courts where the cases have been pending. They have not hesitated one instant to denounce every juror who has ever tried any one of these cases as a perjurer and as a bribe-taker.

They have denounced the Commonwealth's Attorney and the Judge of the court as being unfit for the positions they hold, and have offered all that every excess it was possible to offer for the trials upon the part of the defendants.

HOPING FOR RECOVERY.

I pray and sincerely hope that the President will be spared to the people. I prayed and sincerely hoped that William Goebel would be spared to the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Notwithstanding that some of you gentlemen know, and if you do not know, the officers of this court know, that there has not been a time since the prosecution commenced up to the present time that the officers of this court including your Judge, have not been weekly and monthly threatened with assassination for their efforts to discharge their duties.
But I speak not only for myself, but for my associate officers that come weal or woe, so far as the discharge of our duty is concerned in the prosecution of the pleas of the Commonwealth, and so far as my deliverances to the juries are concerned, I shall never swerve and I know they will never swerve one iota from the discharge of their conscientious duties.

In speaking of the fugitive W.
S. Taylor, Judge Cantrill said:

"It is a lamentable fact, if history be correct, and if the newspaper prints be properly published, that the man who is now the second great officer of this great nation, then Governor of the State of New York, openly and above board assured the refugee from justice, and boasted of the fact, that if he came within his jurisdiction he should receive ample

Tip Day Kills a Man.

On the East Fork of Indian Creek in Menefee county on Saturday night, September 7th, Tip Day shot Mr. Millard Ledford. It is said that the shooting was accidental: that they were returning from a moonshine still-out, that Day shipped and fell and his pistol was discharged. The ball struck Ledford in the thigh ranging up.
He died Sunday night.

Day is the man who killed Howard Wilson more than a year ago.

Circuit Court.

Alex Pendleton was given a life sentence for housebreaking, this being his fourth conviction. He was given a life sentence a few years ago in the Bath Circuit Court, but was pardoned by Gov.
Bradley. It is quite a coincidence that Judge Cooper presides at all the trials and C. W. Nesbitt presided Pendleton in each case.

In addition to the above the following persons were tried and given penitentiary sentences: Gabe Grimsley, white, 5 years for housebreaking; H. S. Cockerham, white, 2 years for horse stealing; Will Kuemper, colored, 6 years for hog stealing; Sant Jones, colored, 2 years for hog stealing; Lat Oden, colored, 2 years for stealing from public building.

A number of persons were convicted for misdemeanors and fined and imprisoned in the county jail.
The cases of W. H. Kash, for perjury, and Ed. Kelly, for seduction, were continued until next term.

The grand jury adjourned Wednesday, after returning 26 indictments.

The petit jury was discharged Tuesday and Court has adjourned until September 23.

Lost Item.

Miss Nancy Kells, of Sharpsburg lost two rings valued at $75, by leaving them in the toilet room of the C. & O. depot, Cincinnati, last week. She went back after missing them but was unable to find them.

THE SCRIBBLER

Wise and Otherwise—
Mostly Otherwise.

Don't call your best girl a peach for peaches are cheaper and more common than potatoes.

It is said that a new cigarette has been introduced and is called the musical cigarette. Every time you take one from the box a mi-niture music box plays "Neuer My God to Thee."

A man was arrested for assault and battery for kissing a pretty girl who worked in a cotton mill in South Carolina. Her beauty was all that saved him. She was so pretty that the jury couldn't find it in their hearts to declare the fellow guilty.

The average Missourian's determination to be shown, sometimes results disastrously, as was illustrated by the man who, upon being told that it was raining, poked his arm out the ear window to feel the drops and had it broken by coming in contact with a telegraph pole.

A paper out in Indiana announces that the bank in the town where it was published, would pay $10 for 1901 pennies, and many who failed to see the point began collecting the pennies and sending them in. One individual mailed four pennies of this year's date with the request that $75 be returned to him and now the bank officials are kept busy trying to explain the joke.

An exchange is advocating the organization of a society for the preventing of cruelty to vegetables. Because, just think of digging the eyes of potatoes, pulling the ears from corn, eating the heads from cabbage, pulling the beards from rye, threshing wheat, cutting the heart out of a tree, spilling the blood of a hee, tearing the skin off a tomato, breaking the neck of a squash, cutting to pieces the pumpkin, sending the lettuce, quartering the apple, raisins and many other outrages.

"Little Joe" Wilson told a reporter of the Advocate that one day last week he left Mt. Sterling for his home near July and after arriving there he proceeded to take the saddle off his horse, when he discovered that his saddle, like the Irishman's flea, was not there. He had ridden home without it.
George Styles says Joe's horse was so fat he did not know the difference.

Original Greenback Man is Dead.

Franklin Landers died at his home in Indianapolis, Ind., Wednesday of a congestive chill. He was a famous Democratic politician in his active days, and the original advocate of the principle that greenbacks should be made a legal tender. He was elected to the State Senate in 1860. In 1861 he was named for Presidential elector for Indiana on the Mc-Clellan ticket, and he defeated General John C. John for Congress in 1874.

In 1875-76 the Greenbackers nominated him for Governor. His name was pressed for Democratic endorsement, but he withdrew and ran for Congress, and although he was defeated, he made possible the election of "Blue Jeans" Williams for Governor by running 800 ahead of his ticket. The Democratic party nominated him for Governor in 1881 against Albert G. Porter, and he went down with his party after a remarkable canvass.

THE ASSASSIN TRIUMPHS.

The President of the United States, William McKinley, is dead. Czolgosz, an anarchist, assassin, murderer, sought an opportunity and got in his deadly work, one ball from the demon's gun penetrating, crushing and tearing in its course. Surgeons and physicians were summoned without considering numbers and costs and trained nurses were on duty every moment. Prayers ascended to God, a nation was moved as one man in profound sympathy, but alas! The man, the experience, the arm, the ball, too short and the assassin's first triumph in his dastard deed. How great the difference between President's convictions of political principles and others, we would not for a moment think him insincere. As a poor boy, a school boy, a graduate in college, a Congressman, a Governor of the State of Ohio, a President of the United States, he ever remembered mother and the matters of greater concern were second only to the care of mother and her wishes. A man like this is the true steel, is stanchly conscientious. This was William McKinley. Did he make mistakes? Yes, his reasoning was sometimes poor, but in his conclusions he was conscientious. Had he reasoned well we do not think he would have been found in Republican lines at all, but that is our opinion, the result of our reasoning and even we Democrats are not infallible. As a Lawyer, Congressman, Governor and President he had to deal with great questions and no man who values his reputation or his honor would persist in research, he did the best he could. He was a great man, in love with Presidential duties and its weighty responsibilities. As a citizen Mr. McKinley was never above his people. The common people of his neighborhood were his friends as were the more favored. As a son and husband none were more attentive, considerate and demonstrative. As a church man we find him a faithful member of the Methodist church. Ah! that's it! The Spirit of God had touched his heart and he had been changed. The things of the natural man had been put away and he was a child of the King. We would have the nation to remember his last words, referring to the assassin's deed: "God forgive him." Entering the deep waters repeating the hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee" and to his invalid wife, "God's will, not ours, be done." These sayings, his deeds even to the last are unerring exponents of the life of a great and good man. Along with our grief comes a feeling of shame, that in this country of ours, with her churches, her educational institutions, her refined citizens, a Czolgosz should be bred, born and reared, that would take the life of the President of the United States, William McKinley. Such characters are here with men to applaud and a woman to approve. A shame to our country, a disgrace to her free institutions.

President McKinley is no more, but down through history will his name pass, a martyred President with Lincoln and Garfield. To the front the people must move and strike down and out every semblance of anarchism.

A CALAMITY.

When death comes through natural ways we have only sorrow and regret, but when an assassin chooses his own way (the assassin's way) the deed becomes a calamity.

Naturally we look for death, for it is appointed to man once to die. In the every day walks down among the common people there comes some one from somewhere, we know not where or how, having been prepared by the All-seeing one, caught and tied in the bushes, perhaps, as was Isaac's substitute and for this expected way men in their choosing prepare substitutes, so that when one is taken another is left. Death hushes the voice of a beloved President, great and good he may be, the Vice President stands ready to receive his mantle. So it is. We are advised that death is inevitable here, we mourn as a people, we sorrow as relatives, it is God's way and we are reconciled. We do not anticipate the assassin's bullet or blade, nor do we consider the bearing and raising in our own land of a Czolgosz, a devil from the beginning, who would plunge the dagger or fire the fatal shot as he hypocritically, yet cordially, wished the President well. A daring, daring deed of a home-bred and raised assassin is verily a calamity. Not that a government will cease in its monstrous business affairs and National relations. (Another of like political faith has already succeeded), but because one of our own, imbued with an archaic spirit, is the slayer of our Chief Executive. This is not only this murderer, Czolgosz, is only one of an organized clan sworn to conquer, even though it be through blood. A calamity has befallen us, yes, an outrage of dastard plotting there is no doubt, an organization in our midst of our own, vile, mean, treacherous, poisonous as the asp and as hateful and destructive as the devil, of the damned is not a picture of an enraged people, it is real. There must be enacted laws. It must be done now, that would deal with the men who would compose the anarchical organizations, impeding them for life and permitting no emigrants on our shore, who cannot give certificate of a good character from his native country. My countrymen! My people! Are we not in a measure responsible for such characters? Take away their feed and how would they live? Consider your valleys, dotted all over with storehouses of their life-giving substance—the colossal trusts, the protective laws and somehow we may see the finger on the wall.

A PROTEST.

It is a sad sight to see a man, made in the image of God and capable of attaining unto an exalted position in intellectual, moral and spiritual development, debasing, dishonoring and damning himself with strong drink. Such is the working of sin. For his cure we point him to the loving Christ. When the victim of this drink curse is a private citizen we may admonish, plead and pray for him; when he passes from the ranks of the masses and becomes a representative citizen, filling any office, elective or appointive, and by his habits disqualifies himself for the efficient and honorable discharge of the duties attending that office, or acts in such way as to dishonor his constituency, he lays himself liable to criticism and the people of his precinct, town, county, district, state and nation have a right to object and protest, either to the retention in or re-election to said office.

We have from time to time made suggestions along this line, because we believe that counsel is needed.

The time is now when men who presume to direct in naming party standard bearers should heed these sentiments. "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

FAR FETTERED.

Admiral Schley is spoken of by those who would have it narrated that they know and why they know that in the event of a conflict sustained before the Investigating Committee in session, he would become a Democratic Presidential nominee possibility. Mr. Schley may be in every way a select piece of Presidential timber, free from knots and dry spots, but flinging missiles of war into and destroying Spanish fleets, while a higher in authority is off talking with another about what is to be done and what they will do with it when they get it, is different business from steering the great ship of this nation on both land and sea. Pulling the trigger of a gun is one thing and touching the button that sets the commerce of the world agape are quite different.

BALLOTS.

THE ADVOCATE Job rooms are prepared to turn out the ballots of all surrounding counties to be used November election. We have every needed facility. We carry a large stock of paper that conforms to the State stock, in order to correct any errors that may be made and to meet every anticipation. We would ask the tenth district county clerks, especially, to have State Secretary Hill to forward their stock to us.

ANOTHER RAILROAD.

A few weeks ago we intimated our people could have another road if they would be watchful and energetic. We recently received a letter verifying this statement and would urge our people to get ready to lay themselves out for this work at the proper time.

WHIPPED.

In Martinsville, Ind., an anarchist who expressed himself pleased over the death of the President, was, in the absence of a law to expel him from the country, stripped and severely whipped. Good!

The appointment of a committee by Mayor Baird to arrange a memorial program to be carried out at the Court House Thursday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock, meets the approval of every citizen. President McKinley was the people's representative, a part and parcel of our very being, hence a Nation's sorrow.

C., there were present as devout participants, two Admirals of the navy, a General of the army, two Justices of the United States Supreme Court, and a former Secretary of State. Be Was Right.
We heard a story once of a good fairy who told three old colored men that they might have anything they wished for provided they did not all wish for the same thing. The first being asked to make a wish, said, "Watermelon." The other two refused to make a wish because, they said, "dat fust nigger got everything with wishin' fur." After partaking of that fine melon donated Tim. Advocate last week by Mr. Joe Candill of Spencer, we are convinced that the "fust nigger" was right if it was one of Mr. Candill's melons he wished for. Mr. Candill has 41 acres of the finest we have seen and we thank him for the one donated.

Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening at 7:30. Subject, "Showing Others the Way."

Elder J. W. McGarvey, of the Bible College, Lexington, celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry Sunday.

School Conventions of the Christian churches meets at Cynthiana

The Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church will meet at the home of Mr. L. T. Chiles on next Friday night at 7:30. The topic for the evening will be Angels, and how it should be dealt with."

Rev. William Hiedersdorf will begin a meeting at the Presbyterian Church in Flemingsburg on Thursday. The Times-Democrat says it "will not be a Presbyterian meeting. It will be a meeting for Flemingsburg and the Gospel of Christ will be preached in its simplicity and purity."

Rev. Geo. A. Joplin conducted a most interesting and appropriate memorial service at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning, taking as his theme "The Lord Reigneth." The sermon dealt with the noble life and character of our late President, in a most tender and touching way.

Only recently, at the celebration of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper in a Presbyterian church in Washington, D. C., there were present as devout participants, two Admirals of the navy, a General of the army, two Justices of the United States Supreme Court, and a former Secretary of State. And, with all this, some people will persist in declaring that Christianity has lost its hold on all men of strong mind and character. Well!

On Sunday morning, September 20th, the Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church will hold its annual rallying day exercises. It is hoped that on this occasion all who have been convinced that this school will be present if at all possible. The order of service entitled "The Nineteen Christian Centuries" will be of great interest to all who attend.

Be Was Right.

We heard a story once of a good fairy who told three old colored men that they might have anything they wished for provided they did not all wish for the same thing.
The first being asked to make a wish, said, "Watermelon." The other two refused to make a wish because they said, "I'd just nigger got everything with wishin' for." After partaking of that fine melon donated the Ashcraft force last week by Mr. Joe Can-dill of Spencer, we are convinced that the "fast nigger" was right if it was one of Mr. Can-dill's luck he wished for. Mr. Can-dill has 14 acres of the finest we have seen and we think him for the one donated.
